Rudolfo Ortiz Audit Resolution Division of Fraud Deterrence and Compliance Monitoring 101 E. 15th Street Austin, TX 78778

Dear Mr. Ortiz,

The North Central Texas Council of Governments (NCTCOG) appreciates the opportunity to respond to TWC's letter dated November 20, 2023, regarding the review of the Child Care Services, Choices (employment services for Temporary Assistance for Needy Families), Employment Services, Trade Adjustment Assistance, and Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act programs administered by Workforce Solutions of North Central Texas.

This review identified opportunities to strengthen management controls and support compliance with contract requirements. The two (2) findings noted are outlined below:

1. Prior Year Finding – Ensure Procurements are Properly Conducted

The following error was noted for the Board's procurement of Risk & Compliance Audit Services:

No documentation of an independent estimate was provided. Standards require that an independent cost estimate be performed before receiving bids or proposals. The absence of an independent estimate may lessen the effectiveness of the required cost/price analysis in determining whether the costs/price of the bids/proposals received are reasonable.

The following errors were noted for the Board's procurement of Single Audit services:

- No documentation of an independent estimate prior to the procurement issuance was provided.
- The Request for Qualifications document is missing the evaluation criteria.
- No documentation was provided to support that bids were received timely.
 - NCTCOG Response: The NCTCOG Purchasing Division has implemented the following controls to ensure procurement requirements are met:
 - Workforce-related procurements have been centralized utilizing the NCTCOG Purchasing Division for enhanced quality control and adherence to requirements specific to TWC. This transition began in June 2023.

- The NCTCOG Purchasing Division has developed a new Determination of Cost Reasonableness Form to meet the Independent Cost Estimate requirements. This form was implemented in FY 2022.
 - Reference: Attachment 1 Determination of Cost Reasonableness Form
- A new Workforce Procurement Request Form has been developed to gather preliminary information and enhance the centralized Workforce procurement process. This form was implemented in FY 2024, beginning in October 2023.
 - o Reference: Attachment 2 Workforce Procurement Request Form
- A new Initial Procurement Memo template has been developed for Workforce-related procurements to document a need statement/determination of allowability, brief description of scope of work, independent estimate, and rationale for the method of procurement to be used. This form was implemented in FY 2024, beginning in October 2023.
 - o Reference: Attachment 3 Initial Procurement Memo
- A new Formal Procurements Checklist and Noncompetitive Procurements
 Checklist has been developed which align with the new Board Procurement Checklist included in the revised TWC Agency Board Agreement (ABA) dated October 11, 2023. The checklists were implemented in FY 2024, beginning in October 2023.

 Attachment 5 Noncompetitive Procurements Checklist
- A formalized training is in development and will be implemented in January 2024. The training will be provided to staff of the Workforce Development Department and will be facilitated by the NCTCOG Purchasing Division. The training will include a walkthrough of the new procurement forms noted above, as well as an overview of procurement requirements specific to TWC funding and general requirements that apply to all funding.
- NCTCOG Purchasing is dedicated to ensuring a transparent and fair procurement process. To uphold this commitment, each formal procurement issued includes outlined evaluation criteria in Section 3: Evaluation and Award. These criteria serve as a comprehensive framework for assessing proposals, ensuring a fair and thorough evaluation process.

NCTCOG Purchasing employs the Public Purchase eProcurement service as a medium for distributing and collecting public sector procurement documents. Vendors leverage the Public Purchase submission portal to submit their technical proposals, price proposals, and any other specified documents. The vendor's submission is securely encrypted, and decryption for viewing is only feasible after the submission deadline has elapsed. This precautionary measure is implemented to maintain a fair competition environment, emphasizing transparency and adherence to established protocols.

The following attachments are saved to each procurement file:

- o Public Purchase Transcription of the Public Opening
- Bid/Proposal Opening and Read Aloud Form
- o Public Purchase Public Opening Attendance Report
- o Microsoft TEAMS Recording of the Public Opening

2. Finding – Ensure MOUs Contain All Required Elements

The Board did not ensure its Memoranda of Understanding (MOU) agreement with the Adult Education & Literacy (AEL) partner contained all the required elements. Although quarterly meetings are held with the Workforce Subrecipient and all AEL partners to ratify the conditions of the Regional Coalition MOU, the MOU was lacking the following elements required by the WIOA Guide to Texas Workforce Systems Operations:

- The MOU was missing the beginning and end date.
- A review of the MOU agreement at least once every three years.
 - NCTCOG Response: Workforce Solutions for North Central Texas is in the process of reviewing and revising all MOU agreements to ensure they contain all required elements set forth in the WIOA Guide to Texas Workforce System Operations (July 2023).

Specifically, as noted in the TWC monitoring review, the Adult Education Literacy (AEL) Regional Coalition MOU has been revised to address the following:

- a beginning and end date
- the requirement to review the MOU agreement at least every three years.

To ratify the conditions of the Regional Coalition MOU, Workforce Solutions for North Central Texas continues to hold quarterly meetings with the Workforce Subrecipient and all AEL partners as identified in the MOU.

Workforce Solutions for North Central Texas staff have implemented internal controls to ensure that all MOUs are developed and revised to include required elements, as directed in Section C (Memoranda of Understanding) of the WIOA Guide to Texas Workforce System Operations, July 2023 and in Appendix B: WIOA MOU Provisions Checklist. Internal controls that have now been implemented include:

- Creation of an MOU checklist to be completed when all MOUs are created, reviewed and revised.
- Revised MOU tracking spreadsheet that lists all MOUs, start and end dates, and compliance with all elements of the WIOA Guide to Texas Workforce System Operations.
- Additional level of review by the Senior Manager of Workforce Programs prior to the distribution of all MOUs for signature.

Additionally, training was conducted on December 18, 2023 by the Senior Manager of Workforce Programs and Manager of Continuous Improvement for all board staff that support the MOU creation and review process. The training will provide direction and guidance related to:

- MOU Overview
- WIOA Guide to Texas Workforce System Operations, July 2023
 - o Section C Memoranda of Understanding
 - o Appendix B: WIOA Mou Provisions Checklist.
- Required MOUs
- Optional MOUs
- MOU Required Elements
 - EO Assurance
- TWC Monitoring Letter
- WSNCT Internal MOU Processes

The NCTCOG is confident the corrective actions noted above will adequately resolve TWC's concerns, will ensure proper adherence to procurement standards, and will ensure MOUs contain all required elements. NCTCOG will continue to demonstrate a commitment to following local, federal, and state guidelines and requirements.

Should you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Phedra Redifer, Executive Director
Workforce Solutions for North Central Texas

North Central of Texas Council of Governments(NCTCOG)

DETERMINATION OF COST OR PRICE ANALYSIS (REASONABLENESS)

Purpose: Federal regulations require documentation of cost analysis or price analysis for every procurement action at or above $250,000 (see 2 C.F.R. § 200.323). The Determination of Cost or Price Reasonableness form is used to document the analysis showing that the offered price is fair and reasonable. The form is kept as part of the procurement file to demonstrate that the procurement process was conducted in an open and fair manner and that NCTCOG received the most advantageous price. This form is required by the Grant Director who is responsible for grant oversight and implementation of internal controls to meet the grant requirements.

Instructions:

- 1. Complete a separate Determination of Cost or Price Reasonableness form for each vendor being recommended for contract award. Complete all sections.
- 2. Provide a detailed discussion of your price analysis or cost analysis. A Determination of Cost or Price Reasonableness form that lacks sufficient detail cannot be approved.
- 3. Sign and date the form.
- 4. Maintain a copy on the grant file subject to retention schedules.
- 5. Submit completed form to the Purchasing Department prior to contract award.

An improperly completed and/or unsigned form will be returned to the Grant Director.

Need Statement Considerations

Section, F.2.2 Need Determination/Justification:

A need determination might include the following actions:

- Written description of the property or service needed
- Written explanation for the need
- Identification of the end user
- Identification of the grant award(s) or program(s) for which the property or service will be used, and determination of availability of funding
- Description of how the property or service will benefit grantee operations, program activities, participants, employers, etc.
- If the request includes a "brand name" specification, identification of the specific characteristic(s) that make acquisition of the specific brand necessary, and justifying why a similar product or service won't meet the business need
- Consideration of whether the specified property or service is like other property or services already acquired under or available to the grant award(s) that would fund the purchase, and if so, explain why an additional or duplicate purchase is needed
- Consideration of whether a one-time or recurring purchase will be needed (refer also to G.1.4 Split & Sequential Purchases)
- Determination of whether the property or service is allowable under, necessary and reasonable for the performance of, and allocable to the grant award(s) or program(s) that would be used to fund the purchase
- If approved, documented approval by authorized personnel and the date approved

Need determination will vary in complexity and be documented in a variety of ways. The extent of the analysis depends on the nature of the request. Simple, small purchases might simply require concurrence from a person having purchase approval or procurement authority, while more complex and costly procurement might require greater analysis and support.

Example: A purchase request to make a routine purchase of office supplies might include a statement to that effect or be obvious from the request that the purchase is a routine purchase, with the approver's sign-off being adequate evidence of the grantee's determination that the purchase is necessary. Compare that with an unusually large purchase of copier paper made to gear up for a large print job or to take advantage of a time-limited discount that would result in a significant cost savings. The statement for the latter might include a statement that describes the reason for the unusually large purchase and why it is necessary. Again, the approver's sign-off could provide evidence that the grantee considers the purchase to be necessary.

Example: The need determination for a real property lease would be more extensive than for supplies, describing, for example, the need for the amount of space specified, the type of space, location, etc. This may include information about the use of the space, the number of customers and staff to use the space, associated parking need assumptions, specifications about public transportation options for customers, etc.

The analysis or justification need not be specifically identified as a "need determination" (though doing so may help facilitate review and audit by external oversight entities). For example, it might take the form of a purchase requisition that contains, references, or has attached to it information that provides for a complete audit trail. In other cases, it might take the form of a separately prepared need determination statement or justification with required approval shown on the face of that document or attached.

The grantee's procurement procedures will govern how the grantee processes and documents need requests and determinations. However, to provide an audit trail, the need determination for an approved request should evidence the request, reference or attach any additional information that was considered in the decision to approve or not approve the request, and provide evidence of who approved the request and when.

Rationale for the method of procurement, including consideration of lease versus buy, and other analysis

Include a memo or other written documentation that indicates the method of procurement selected and the rationale.

The UG requires that the procurement records be sufficient to detail the history of procurement, including the rationale for the method of procurement.

Considerations include, but are not limited to:

- requirements to avoid acquisition of unnecessary or duplicative items
- consolidating or breaking out procurements to obtain a more economical purchase (but not splitting purchases to circumvent procurement thresholds)
- an analysis of lease versus purchase alternatives and any other appropriate analysis to determine the most economical approach
- eligibility to participate in cooperative contracts (keeping record of the contract, if used)
- use of federal excess and surplus property in lieu of purchasing new property whenever such use is feasible and reduces project costs
- the UG procurement standards for use of sealed bidding and competitive proposals procurement procedures.

Rationale for the method of procurement

Procurement Methods

The chart below identifies methods of procurement specifically cited in 2 CFR 200.320. When determining a procurement method, WSNCT/NCTCOG must use one of these methods in accordance with NCTCOG Procurement thresholds, provided it meets or exceeds the procurement standards in one of the methods below.

Method of Procurement	Citation	NCTCOG Policy
Micro Purchases (less than or equal to $10,000)	2 CFR
	200.320(a)(1)	Up to $3,000
Small Purchases (less than or equal to the	See 2 CFR

Selected Method & Rationale

Independent Estimate Considerations

Include for procurements that exceed the simplified acquisition threshold. Include the estimate, the date prepared, identify who prepared it, and indicate the basis used to prepare it.

The UG requires performance of a cost or price analysis in connection with every procurement action in excess of the simplified acquisition threshold, including contract modifications. As a starting point for cost or price analysis, the UG requires the procuring entity to make independent estimates before receiving bids or proposals. Refer to F.6 Independent Estimate, in the FMGC Supplement on Procurement, for additional information.

*Reference: 2 CFR § 200.234.

FMGC Section F.6 Independent Estimate:

An independent estimate is the grantee's own estimate of what a needed item of property or service should cost.

As reflected in F.6.1 Basic Standard, in this Publication, the UG and UGMS require that independent estimates be made before bids or proposals are received. Bid and proposals are the responses received in response to an Invitation for Bids (IFB) and Request for Proposals (RFP), respectively. Procurement by noncompetitive proposals also requires proposals. The UG and UGMS specifically associate IFBs and RFPs with procurement by sealed bids (formal advertising) and competitive proposals, respectively. As such, an independent estimate is required when using the sealed bids (formal advertising), competitive proposals, or noncompetitive proposals methods of procurement.

Note, that some degree of estimate should also occur when needed to decide whether to procure by micro-purchase procedures, small purchase procedures, or formal procedures, or any other time when needed to perform an initial budget check to verify whether adequate funds will be available for the acquisition, and to consider whether a procurement will fall within applicable procurement thresholds. However, such estimate differs from the independent estimate described in this Section, F.6 Independent Estimate.

An independent estimate is a tool to help analyze offerors proposed costs and/or prices, with the end goal to result in a reasonable contract price. In the planning stages, an independent estimate can also aid in the initial budget check to determine whether funds will be available for the acquisition. It can also assist in selection of an appropriate procurement method, such as for determining whether the aggregate cost will exceed the micro-purchase threshold or simplified acquisition threshold. After receiving bids or proposals, the independent estimate serves as a benchmark for cost and/or price analysis; this is its primary purpose.

An independent estimate should not be more complex or detailed than what is necessary to accomplish its use in connection with the cost and/or price analysis, considering the grantee's familiarity with the cost or price involved. The method and degree of analysis for preparing an independent estimate may vary. For example, for repeat purchases for which the cost or price is relatively stable, the independent estimate might be based on prior purchases. On the other hand, for purchases of property or services not previously acquired, the estimate may draw from initial market research or information from industry or peer organizations. Refer to F.4 Pre-Solicitation Market Research, in this Publication, for information about market research.

It is helpful for documentary purposes if the independent estimate is labeled; accordingly, however, such identification is not required.
